

The Australian Chinese Medical Association Inc (ACMA) in NSW was formed on the 20th Sept 1990. Membership is open to all medical practitioners registered in the states and territories of Australia. About two-thirds of members are in General Practice, with the remainder drawn from almost all the sub-specialties as well as resident medical staff.

ACMA aims to be a dynamic and responsible organisation that is relevant to members and provides ample opportunities for education and networking.

There are many activities on offer to members such as:

Social

ACMA involves its members in many fun and exciting social and sporting functions. These fun and sociable events appeal to all members and their families from young children, through teens and young adults, to mature members. They include the Chinese New Year Dinner, the Annual Dinner and Dance, the Annual Scientific Conference and movie and theatre nights. Ski trips, golf and tennis days and family picnics are just some of the many exciting and fun events that ACMA hold during the year.

Medical Education

ACMA has a strong continuing education program. Notable guest speakers regularly present current and up-to-date information on a wide array of medical and surgical topics at the monthly educational seminars, special weekend workshops, and at the big event of the year- the Annual Scientific Conference.

Community

ACMA actively promotes community health activities through radio broadcasts, Chinese language newspapers, health care fact sheets, public seminars and health expos. for Chinese speaking Australians.

Young ACMA

A new, vibrant and growing part of ACMA, it aims to bring together and promote the new generation of dynamic young doctors. With exciting functions and events, not only is it fun and sociable but it allows young doctors to make friends, create networks, establish mentors and find career paths. Come join us at our many exciting events such as cocktail parties, bowling nights, skiing trips and mentor nights.

ACMA Charitable Trust
