

IN CONVERSATION WITH DR ANDREW LAM

The Modern JMO

Tuesday 14 December | 7.30pm - 8.30pm

Topic | The Modern JMO (Junior Medical Officer)

Interviewee | Dr Andrew Lam

Andrew is currently a PGY2 Resident based between Bankstown and Campbelltown Hospitals who has an interest in Intensive Care Medicine.

He spent most of his time at Liverpool hospital as a student from UNSW after graduating in 2019 and has stayed in the Southwest-Sydney District for his JMO years. He teaches as a conjoint associate lecturer with UNSW and has a weekly medical education podcast "Medspresso" - aimed at providing practical clinical knowledge at a Medical Student/JMO level.

Outside of work, he loves his sports (volleyball, badminton, oztag) and heading down to the snow to board.

Interviewer | Dr Tony Chu

Tony is a medical story-teller and interested in doctors' back-stories. As a Creative Doctor, he is the former President of the Creative Doctors Network and Doc Art Festival.

About ACMA Zoom Chat

Each month, we interview an ACMA Member to reveal interesting life experiences. It's informal and fun. And both educational and entertaining!

*Members, we have sent the Zoom details to your email. If you don't get it, please contact us (office@acma.org.au)

*For non-Members, please join ACMA!

If you would like to be interviewed next, please email: office@acma.org.au